CALIFORNIA INDUSTRIES. Interesting Debate Between Our Congressmen on the Tariff Bill. Washington, June 12th.-It is unfortu nate that in the discussion of the Mills bill an aye-and-no vote is not taken on the various clauses as they are considered separately. It is impossible to get the members on record in many important items, but occasionally things happen which put the Representatives on record. Recently during the discussion of the Mills bill the two Democratic members of the House from California committed them-selves irrevocably. When the clause put-ting lumber on the free list was being con-sidered Vandever of California offered the following amendment: ollowing amendment:

"Provided, further, that if the abovementioned articles, or either of them, are the product of Chinese labor in the country whence imported, they shall be subject to duty as now provided by law, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury." Vandever intended that all lumber man-ufactured by Chinese labor in British columbia should be subject to a duty, even if lumber manufactured by white labor should be admitted free. A spirited discussion ensued, and a rising vote was taken. Biggs of California was one of the few Biggs of California was one of the few Democrats who voted in favor of the amendment on the rising vote. Thompson voted against it. Springer, a Democrat, who was in the chair, decided that the amendment was lost, and then a vote by tellers was demanded. Then Mr. Biggs tellers was demanded. Then Mr. Biggs and Mr. Thompson both walked between the tellers and voted against the amendment. The sudden change in Mr. Biggs' decision was brought about by his subjection to his party, which demands that there shall be free trade in lumber without any restrictions whatever. Biggs and Thompon thus recorded themselves in obedience to the free-trade leaders as opposed to pro-tecting the white labor of California and Oregon against the coolie labor in British M'KENNA TAKES THE FLOOR.

Another occasion arose in which Mr Biggs had an opportunity to express his great admiration for the wonderful free-trade measure of Mr. Mills. The salt schedule was under consideration, and Mr. McKenna made a speech in favor of striking it from the list and restoring it to the dutiable list. McKenna said: "The bill carefully and industriously cruelly discriminates against every California industry. Wool, lumber, salt, borax, fruit, marble, all these industries of my State, although most of them are in a nascient condition, have been put upon the free list—all taken from the labor and the profit of Americans and given to the labor and the profit of foreignprunes. [Laughter.] Well, sir, prunes are something, and maybe we should be thankful for that something, whether fear or favor or mercy or a satiated free-trade appe tite has granted it to us; but I would like to ask the Democrats of this House, and especially my Democratic colleagues, to answer this question: Why so indulgent to prunes and so rigorous to other fruits, to wool, to lumber, to salt, to borax? What virtue is there in prunes and the producers of them that is not in wool, lumber, borax, salt and the producers of them?
"To my crude legislative notion, Mr.

Chairman, if any one of these things is ntitled to protection, all are, and a Demoratic legislator from California, if he lared to discriminate, might find a warant and guaranty in the sentiment of the party in that State in favoring wool instead of prunes. I will read the Democratic platform of 1884, upon which my two col-leagues were elected. I wish to see whether that portion of the Democratic party was represented upon the Committee on nd Means, as its Chairman says the Democratic party was represented: "'Resolved, That the present tariff on wool, pre ared by a Republican Commission, appointed by a Republican President, is an unjust discrimination against a great industry, and we denounce the same and demand a restoration of the tariff of 1867.'

Mr. Chairman, if concessions are to be ade by Democrats because they are Democrats, why should not a California Demo-crat demand favor for wool? When a California Democrat begged alms or forced concessions, why did he not beg alms and orce concessions for wool and lumber and for those other things in which his State is so largely interested?"

MR. BIGGS ON WOOD PULPS. Mr. Biggs jumped to his feet to reply to hese strictures, and expressed himself as llows: "My colleague has read the emocratic platform which was adopted by the Democratic State Convention of Calfornia held two years ago. I was elected on that platform, but the Committee on Ways and Means has done so much for us

I say we can afford to give up free weol. I propose to go before my people and make the issue fairly and squarely. There is a great industry in California that that has been overlooked. It is the wood oulp interest. That and all other interests in which California is concerned will fare better under this bill than under the pres ent tariff. So far as California is concerned this bill is far better than the present tariff. It is not in favor of protecting the great producers and the great manufacturers a the expense of the many, but it is to relieve the many of the heavy burdens and compel the few to pay their fair share of

Mr. Biggs here announces that the Mills bill, which reduces the tariff on raisins, nuts, oranges and lemons, and puts lumber, salt, borax, quicksilver and wool on the free list, is far better than the present tariff law. He declares that he is not in favor of protecting the great producers of the country. In other words, he would do nothing for the producers of wool, raisins, oranges, limes, lemons, nuts, fruits, or for the man-ufacturers and producers of borax, sait, lumber and quicksilver. Mr. Biggs has cured for this purpose, Mr. Fuller's contaken this advanced position in favor of firmation will immediately follow. free trade. His remarks may be found on page 5,449 of the Congressional Record.

So quiet were the cases settled that they attracted little or no attention. THE REASONS FOR SILENCE. The Democratic party has lost much of its campaign strength in its present inability to assail an administration. It has so long been trained to fault finding, and its traditions all being those of the obstructionist, it finds itself for the first time in many years in a novel attitude, and engaged in a by no means congenial task, that of defending administration policy. It was so convniced by its own iteration that the Republican party during its twentyfour years of stewardship had developed to stand upon. The motion being put the into a monstrous thief, that it plunged into the business of preferring charges in 1884 with a fine frenzy. It could lay no specific allegations, however, and therefore indulged in the "taking" cry, "Examine the books." And it is certain that a great many voters whose natural affiliations are not with the Democracy did vote its ticket in 1884 because they had been led, by the opposition, to entertain a suspicion that there was something wrong in the national bookkeeping, and that during so many years with one party in power a great deal of thieving had been covered up. They reasoned that it would not do any harm to give the Democracy the opportunity to drag out the skeletons it se strenuously insisted occupied numerous department closets. The Democracy went into office; the books were opened and experted and not an instance of error or deceit; of thievery or falsification developed but one - a Western Federal official's account was short two cents-and he was a Democrat. This accounts for the dead silence of the orators at the St. Louis Convention concerning the "Republican rascality" they had promised in 1884 should exposed. It accounts for the abandonment of the party cry, "Turn the rascals out." It explains the absence from the party platform of any reference to the examination of the books notwithstanding the 'rascally bookkeepers" are about all "out." It was equally as discreet for the Convention and its orators to refrain from examination of the fiscal policy of the Administration, and to ignore the rebuke even a Democratic House of Representatives administered in interpreting the law of his duty to the President, relative to the pur-The temporary Chairman of the Convention, Mr. White, of California, was far tion to American industry. ### A GOOD SUGGESTION.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

At the Club House recently erected in New York by Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt for 9 A. M.—There is no change in General the use of railroad men, everything posto benefit. One noticeable feature is the care for the injured (a knowledge so necesif properly carried out, will doubtless be General Sheridan's condition remains the the means of saving many lives. Some simple remedy, applied at just the right moment, has often been the means of preventing, in such cases, serious complicaious, and statistics show conclusively that tions that would, in all probability, have brought about a long and painful illness.

Such a remedy, efficacious and easy of application, should be kept at hand, to be physician, or, in simpler ones, to prevent expense and trouble. There is a remedy that fully meets these requirements, is heartily recommended by phy sicians and surgeons, is invaluable for life. As soon as you feel that something is Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Wounds, Sprains, Hemorrhages and all kinds of Pain, and it is largely used in the hospitals in this country and abroad. For such purposes Pond's Extract has stood multitudinous tests for fifty years, and only constant praise has ever come from those who have used it. Purely a vegetable remedy, prepared by chemical treatment from a simple but powerful plant, Pond's Extract contains nothing dangerous to the most delicate organization. Through two generations it has been a favorite household remedy. In addition to this, there are two other significant facts that place this medicine above all others of its kind. First, of all proprietary medicines brought before the committee appointed to examine applications for entrance at the Paris Exposition in 1878, this was the only one that passed the French Medical College. As has been said, Pond's Extract is prescribed by many of the leading physicians of America and Europe. The last, in itself, s sufficient recommendation, for it is a well-known fact that, as a rule, doctors are violently opposed to proprietary medicines of all sorts (whether out of regard to their patients or their pockets, it is not for us to say), and where they are found heartily indorsing such an article, that article must possess wonderful merit. Supported by the highest scientific authority in the past fifty years, there cannot e the slightest doubt that Pond's Extract is all that is claimed for it. That it does not propose to cure every ill that flesh is heir to, is another point in its favor, for nobody trusts a thing or a person that claims to be too good. There are certain troubles, however, particularly those resulting from inflammation of any kind, either external or internal, for which it is almost a certain cure if applied in time. As a very large class of as tin, slate or iron roofs. human ills arise from inflammations or hemorrhages, Pond's Extract comes very much nearer being a cure-all than do many drugs that claim far more.

Having used this medicine in our own family we are prepared to indorse it as above.

If you will take the trouble to inquire, you will find that other dealers are charging $1 per box for this soap. We make a profit on it at EIGHTY CENTS. We do not advertise this soap because we think it a bargain at 80 cents. We only want to show you that when dealers ask you more than 80 cents they are bound by a trust. Their business is regulated by outsiders. They are not free men. They dare not stand up for their rights, and they are members of a combination to force up the price of goods. We think they are bound so tight that there is not a retail dealer in the city who DARE sell King Soap at 80 cents per box. It is impossible to make a slave of a Yankee-they must have their own

ANNUAL REPORTS. The South Pacific Coast Doing a Profitable Business A number of annual reports of Southern Pacific branch lines and independent roads in this State were filed at the office of the in this State were filed at the office of the Railroad Commission yesterday.

The most interesting is that of the South Pacific Coast Railroad, showing its operations during the first year of its new ownership. The report, which is filed in by the Secretary, W. V. Huntington, shows the total earnings to have been $995,235, of which $463,449 87 was derived from passenger travel and $437,328 09 from freight. The operating expenses were $631,015 85, thus leaving the handsome sum of $294,219 17 as net earnings. The greater part of the profit appears to have been derived from freight transportation, the net earnings of the passenger business amounting only to seven cents per mile, or $34,395 95. The freight earnings were $2 06 per mile, or $255,366 20.

The average per mile of passenger and freight rates accounts for the difference between the net earnings. In consequence of the competition between the broad and narrow guages before the consolidation through rates were very materially reduced. The average rate of fare to all points on the line is 1.7 cents. The freight tariff is somewhat higher, the maximum rate per ton being $15 and the lowest $1 63. The length of the line and its branches to Boulder Creek and New Almaden is 104 miles. The list of equipment furnished in the report shows that the rolling stock consists of 21 engines, 74 passenger coaches and 433 freight-cars.

The Visalia Railroad Company has also filed its annual report. This is a line between Goshen, on the Southern Pacific and twen Goshen, on the Southern Pacific and the Goshen, on the Southern Pacific and twen Goshen, on the Southern Pacific and twen Goshen, on the Southern Pacific and the Goshen, on the Southern Pacific an Railroad Commission yesterday.

The Visalia Railroad Company has also filed its annual report. This is a line between Goshen, on the Southern Pacific and Visalia. It is seven miles in length. The total earnings for the year were $27,543-05, derived as follows: Passenger department, $11,652-05; freight, $15.891. The total operating expenses were $19.599-98, leaving a net income of $7.952-07, which is about 7 per cent. on the capital invested. The report is compiled by the Secretary of the corportion, Julius Levy.

WHEAT—There is practically no market. No demand exists for export account, and when this avenue is closed a stoppage of business is the result. This has been the situation for some time, and no improvement is probable for the next month at least. Considerable speculation prevails as to the coming harvest. Operators, as a rule, take a sanguine view of the outlook. Nearly all incline to the belief that we shall have as large a yield as last season, while many are of the opinion that it will be greater. The weather has been so favorable of late for growing crops that all previous calculations are set aside. In the absence of sample trade we quote the market nominal at $1 30 to $1 32½ for standard shipping grades, with higher figures paid for choice for use by millers.

COMMERCIAL. SACRAMENTO MARKET.

The South Pacific Coast Doing a Profitable Business.

A number of annual reports of Southern Pacific branch lines and independent roads in this State were filed at the office of the Railroad Commission yesterday.

The most interesting is that of the South Pacific Coast Railroad, showing its operations during the first year of its new ownership. The report, which is filed in by the Secretary, W. V. Huntington. shows the total earnings to have been $925,235, of which $463,449 St was derived from passenger travel and $437,328 99 from freight. The operating expenses were $631,015 85, thus leaving the handsome sum of $294, 219 17 as net earnings. The greater part of the profit appears to have been derived from freight transportation, the net earnings to the passenger business amounting only to seven cents per mile, or $24,335 95. The freight earnings were $2 06 per mile, or $235,366 20.

The average per mile of pessenger and freight rates accounts for the difference between the net earnings. In consequence of the competition between the broad and narrow guages before the consolidation through rates were very materially reduced. The average rate of fare to all points on the line is 1.7 cents. The freight tariff is somewhat higher, the maximum rate per ton being $15 and the lowest $16.3. The length of the line and its branches to Boulder Creek and New Almaden is 104 miles. The list of equipment furnished in the report shows that the rolling stock consists of 21 engines, 74 passenger coaches and 438 freight-cars.

The Visalia Railroad Company has also filed its annual report. This is a line between Goshen, on the Southern Pacific and Visalia. It is seven miles in length. The total earnings for the year were $27,543 05, derived as follows: Passenger department, $21,652 05; freight, $3.5.891. The total operating spenses were $27,543 05, derived as follows: Passenger department, $21,652 05; freight, $3.5.891. The total operating spenses were $27,543 05, derived as follows: Passenger department, $21,652 05; freight, $3.5.8

total earnings for the year were $27,543 05, derived as follows: Passenger department, $11,652 05; freight, $15,891. The total operating expenses were $19,599 98, leaving a net income of $7,952 07, which is about 7 per cent. on the capital invested. The report is compiled by the Secretary of the corportion, Julius Levy.

The report of the Carson and Colorado Railroad Company is only partially filled in. General Manager Yerrington states that the line is only partly in California, and is owned and operated by parties who are outside this State. For these reasons the full figures are not given. The other
